Whitlow retractor

SC-GY/084

The Whitlow self-retaining vaginal retractor is suitable for both gynaecology and obstetrics.

It allows a superior surgical view enabling excellent vaginal retraction, thus improving patient safety whilst reducing the risk of needle stick injury. It can also reduce the need for extra surgical assistance during procedure.

The Whitlow allows for retraction at four different points, and can also be used with base plate leg ties.

It comes with two 90° blades for the anterior and posterior of the retractor, and two lateral blades. Alternative 75° angled lateral blades, which allow for additional operating/suturing space at points higher up in the vagina, are also included.

The points of retraction can be moved around an almost 360° angle

Superior surgical view improves patient safety and ease of operation

Reducing the need for extra surgical assistance during procedure makes it highly cost-effective

Made of hardened European Steel with it's own sterilising container and lid, for long term re-use
